Jug with Self Closing Lid - Sylvia Stave, Sweden, circa 1920's

Thanks to a counterweight on the inside, the lid of this jug opens automatically, when pouring the wine. Sylvia Stave designed several silver objects for the "Guldsmedsaktiebolaget" in Stockholm. Almost nothing is known about her personally, although she was one of the leading designers in Scandinavia during the 1920s, her design work being equal to the outstanding quality of Marianne Brandt in Germany.
